

Semi-Weekly Interior Journal.

VOL. XIV.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 31, 1885.

NO. 9.

SPRING ANNOUNCEMENT OF ROBERTSON & KINNAIRD, DANVILLE, KENTUCKY.

We solicit the trade of Lincoln and adjoining counties, knowing that we can offer inducements in variety, style and price that will at once merit approval. We display this season the Largest and Finest Stock of Goods ever opened this side of the Kentucky River. The fact that we have the confidence and the trade of our nearest neighbors is convincing proof that we offer inducements not found elsewhere. We would have you note the following lines, which we have in large variety:—

DRESS GOODS.

Tricos, Satin Berber, Cashmores, Dretto De Alma, Henrietta, Nuns' Veiling, Albatross, Ottomans, Irish Poplins, Buntings, &c., in all the new and fashionable shadings.

SILKS.

In Silks we have a complete line of Black, Changeable, Foulards, Broadened, in Gros Grain and Surah; also Broadened Fronts, very handsome.

In Gingham and Satteens we can suit any taste, as we show an unusually large stock. These goods are very attractive in colorings and fabrics.

WHITE GOODS.

India Linens, India Plaids, Real Linen Lawn, Dotted Linens, French Nainsooks, Persian Lawns, Lace in large variety, Lace all over, Allover Embroidery Net, Wide Lace for making entire dress, Lace Curtains, &c.

JERSEYS.

Our stock of Jerseys is large and complete. We have them in Plain Black, Beaded, Braided in Gilt and Black. This comfortable garment will be largely used this season and we have a stock that will meet the demand.

FANS.

We display a stock of Fans that can not be excelled anywhere outside of the large cities. We have them in all shades, styles and prices. A full assortment of Parasols and Sun Umbrellas.

WALL PAPER.

You should not fail to see our stock of Wall Paper before decorating your homes. We have given this branch of our business special care and have purchased this season Ten Thousand Rolls of entirely new and beautiful patterns. The ceilings and decorations are strikingly handsome. Any one can be suited from our well selected stock. Our stock of Window Shades is entirely complete. Our stock of DOMESTICS.

Is always full and complete. The best brands of Bleached and Brown Shirts and Sheetings, Cheviots, Plaids, Prints, &c., are to be found in our house. These goods are strictly staple and are sold at about the same price everywhere, and we do not pretend to sell them at lower prices than others, but our customers can always rely on getting them from us at the lowest possible prices.

Give us a trial; we are satisfied that we can save you money.

ROBERTSON & KINNAIRD.

GRANDPA.

[Written for the Interior Journal.]
Grandpa sits on his front porch. In his accustomed place, and no one knows of what he's thinking as he sits there day by day. He has looked on the surrounding scenes nearly all his life; the fields and woods and streams are just the same, but Grandpa has grown old. The house is old too, like him; many a fastidious man on the shingles, the chimney leans. He has lived in that house for more than half a century; he has brought his young wife there and had raised his family of children there. As far as the eye could see on every side had been his negroes and niggers at their work in his fields, wealth and honor and happiness were granted. Out of that house his children went with their husbands and wives, and it had been an asylum for them and their children, when they came back widowed and sad. They had taken his wife out of that house and buried her.

The war hushed the songs his negroes sang and no longer they bring their children of evenings to play their little tricks just to see "mister" laugh. His lands have most of them passed into the hands of strangers, and the smoke from their chimneys curl up from where he intended—poor, disappointed old man—that his children should live. His memory has all gone wrong, he doesn't seem to understand the present and knows nothing of the recent past. It is only what occurred long ago that Grandpa recollects. When you go to see him he speaks to you and then forgets you—or thinks you some one else. He thinks his wife is alive and his children all small and is surprised and troubled to see that they are grown and that his wife does not come when he calls her. Well it is for the old that time, which robs them of so much, takes away also the power to suffer acutely; if not, how could the old man endure it as he sits and thinks. Nobody knows how to sympathize with him. Nothing here interests him; his thoughts stretch beyond it all, into eternity. His wife will be there and his kindred. It will all be right again. How little sympathy between the young and the old! We may pity and be gentle with, but how can we understand Grandpa? The desolate heart, and vagaries of age! He has gone back to his youth and is a child again and as a child death finds him when it comes, and we keep his spectacles and his billie, marked all through where he read, and the one, worn so smooth by his hands, and money could not buy these seemingly worthless things, for they were Grandpa's.

Ben Batterworth, while Commissioner of Patents, granted a patent to some shrewd fellow on a canvas cover for tobacco-plant beds, who is endeavoring to collect a royalty from all planters using such covers. In certain sections of Kentucky this idea has long been in force, and those using the canvas cover peremptorily refuse to pay any heed or money either to the patentee. The Asheville (N. C.) Citizen announces a like determination upon the part of planters in that splendid tobacco region, and the following from a Danville, Va., gentleman indicates a concurrence: "I used canvas on tobacco-beds as early as 1876, and got the idea from a Northern paper, giving directions how to use cloth over hot-beds and cold frames instead of glass. Advise your planters to use the canvas and pay no royalty to any one." The patentee will probably realize more disappointment than wealth from his efforts to impose upon the shrewd people in the tobacco States. [Lan. Times.]

DR. BOSANKO.

This name has become so familiar with the most of people throughout the United States that it is hardly necessary to state that he is the originator of the great Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup, the people's favorite remedy, wherever known, for Coughs, Colds, Consumption and all affections of the Throat and Lungs. Price 50 cents and $1.00 sold by McRoberts & Stagg.

Shopkeepers' Price-Marks.

The system of marking prices on goods in general use among retailers is for each to adopt a word or term which shall contain ten unrepented letters to correspond with the numerals. Thus, for instance, words:

Anchorites
1234567890

The cost of an article has been usually marked on it, the salesman knowing what to add; but this plan is losing in popularity and is being replaced by the better method of marking the selling price. Em-ploying the key word "Anchorites," an article marked, say "a. i. o." would indicate $1.75. Some merchants have both cost and selling rates marked, in which case the two are separated by a line, the cost being on top and the selling price under. (Humorously inclined individuals not infrequently get up a key word or term which would make customers smile were they aware of the contrast between the mysterious cost marks and that from which they are derived. No little ingenuity is displayed in the selection, but after the essential of ten unrepented letters there is nothing wanting but so simple orthography that the foot of the speller in the salesman class may have no inducement whatever to go wrong. The tit-tat-toe cost mark is the only one known which does not employ the alphabet. It may be understood by drawing the ordinary tit-tat-toe game diagram and making the figures beginning at the upper left hand space, then to the right and repeat until the nine spaces are filled. In this device x is substituted for the "nought." To express say $1.50 by the tit-tat-toe, the hieroglyphic would be an L with the horizontal part run directly opposite from normal; a square; and an L set wrong end up, a good deal like the small boy's sketch in his school-books under which he places the caution: "Don't steal this book! my onest friend for fear the gallus will be your end." It will be observed that these characters represent the parts of the tit tat toe diagram in which the numerals 1, 5 and 9 occur. —[Pittsburgh Times.]

ESTHETIC POKER IN BOSTON.—The intellectual game of draw-poker has taken a firm hold on the dwellers in cultured Boston, and the teachings of the Concord School of Philosophy are for a time forgotten. Our special correspondent writes us that he recently overheard several fair daughters of the Athens of America indulging in this pleasant pastime, when the following dialogue ensued:

Anastasia—Is it my aunt? O, yes! well, there's a solitary check.

Clytemnestra—I will bestir your destitute of sight, dear.

Proserpine—Well, draw your cards, girls. I will remain Patrick.

Millicent—Well, I will wager a half score of checks.

Anastasia—I behold you and elevate you five.

Proserpine—I fear that you are feigning to possess more than you really have, but, nevertheless, dears, I call you.

Anastasia—I have a homogeneous trio of aces.

Millicent—And I a Robert-appended flush.

Proserpine—While I hold a quartet of knaves.

Millicent—Well, dear, then you take the ceramics. —[Chicago Rambler.]

—The jury in the case of the three Wyatt brothers, on trial at Richmond, charged with the murder of Henry and Cyrus Young, February 9, 1884, failed to agree. The jury was out three days.

THIS IDEA OF GOING WEST

to Colorado or New Mexico, for pure air to relieve Consumption, is all a mistake. Any reasonable man would use Dr. Bosanko's Cough and Lung Syrup for Consumption in all its first stages. It never fails to give relief in all cases of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Pains in the Chest and all affections that are considered primary to Consumption. Price, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold by McRoberts & Stagg.

The Lady Was Too Much For Him.

"Going for?" he inquired.
"Oh, an awful long way," she replied.
"How sweet and childish!" thought the gripack man.

"How far are you going?"
"Oh! away off."

"To St. Louis?"
"My, yes, and further than that."

"I am awful glad. I'll have your company a good while, and I know we shall be great friends," said he.

"I hope so," she replied.

"You have beaux, don't you?" suddenly asked the drummer.

"No. I used to have, but—"

"Ah! never mind. I'll be your beau on this trip. Now, tell me your name, please."

"Metilda—Metilda Haw—well, it used to be Hawkins, but it is Jordan now."

"What! You are not married?"

"No! I poisoned my fifth husband the other day, and oh—oh! you look so sweet. You look as if strychnine would make such a beautiful corpse of you. Come, now, won't you marry me?"

The drummer excused himself, and the jolly Pontiac girl and her beau, who sat behind pretending to be asleep, laughed all the way to Bloomington. —[New York Dispatch.]

BLINDING A CATTLE THIEF.—As an instance of what goes on in Morocco in the present day, let me relate an incident which has just come to my knowledge. A man residing at Feronet, some miles from Tetuan, was lately accused of having stolen a bullock from one of the local authorities, who, acting as judge in his own case, gave an order that the supposed delinquent should have his eyes cut out. The horrible sentence was carried into effect, and the wretched victim was then led into Tetuan by one of his relatives, in order to have medical advice from an European doctor who has settled there. As may be supposed, the case was beyond the limits of science, for no human power can ever restore sight to those empty sockets; and the poor fellow who suffered this shameful cruelty, and who has been up to the present time the support of a numerous family, is condemned to hopeless darkness forever. This is only one sample of a series of atrocities continually occurring in this country. —[Tangier Letter to London Globe.]

Mrs. Augusta Evans Wilson, the novelist, has one of the pleasantest homes in Mobile. The house is surrounded by a grove of live oaks and thickets of camellias, the latter being Mrs. Wilson's favorite flower. She places a white camellia at her husband's plate at table every meal. "And he has never," she says, "been without a flower at any breaking of bread in our house since we were married, now sixteen years ago."

The successful casting of the lenses for the great Lick telescope has finally been accomplished, and they only need polishing now to be ready for use. In looking through this telescope, says a San Francisco paper, it is reckoned that the moon will be brought within thirty miles of the earth and that discoveries will be made on that planet to solve problems that have heretofore been held to be unsolvable.

Kentucky must learn true humility, modesty and sweetness. This getting full of whiskey and garlic and pounding on the table will not do. Let the Colonels and Judges observe how the meek and lowly republicans keep their places. They say nothing, and behold how well they get along. The next time Kentucky moves up Pennsylvania avenue let it stun its voice to a mellifluous tenor and make sure that the next office that it lays hold of is not nailed down. —[Chicago Herald.]

The White House has been so often painted that the white lead upon it is said to be, by actual measurement, nearly a quarter of an inch thick.

The Law and the Lawyer.

One of the chief obstacles now a days to the administration of exact justice in criminal cases is the ambition which impels small lawyers to seek the conspicuity that is the ordinary reward of a successful defense in a criminal case. To impede the administration of justice, to create sympathy for a depraved and devilish criminal, to beg for the popular judgment, and confuse the public sense of justice—to do these things successfully has until recently been deemed an infallible method of securing distinction at the bar. The sort of distinction achieved in this way, however, has ceased to be regarded as enviable. Probably the most successful practitioner of these acts in the West is T. C. Campbell, of Cincinnati, and, yet, we doubt if there is a jack leg lawyer in Kentucky that covets the reputation which that notorious personage "enjoys" as a practitioner at the bar. In proportion as a lawyer resorts to disreputable practices to carry professional ends, in the same proportion he sacrifices his own claims to popular confidence and esteem, and imperils to his own character a distinctly criminal taint. No really great lawyer ever attempted or desired to corrupt the administration of the law. —[Mayville Eagle.]

A LESSON IN GRAMMAR.—Brother Wallace Gruelle: In what grammar did "measles" get to be a plural or for that matter out of what grammar? —[Louisville Democrat.]

Brother W. H. Munnell: Turn to page 43 of Butler's Practical and Critical Grammar, and you will find the answer to your query, as follows. "Some nouns are used in the plural number only; as, annals, thanks, riches, tidings, sweepings, trappings, vitals, entails, withers, assets, clothes, ashes, caves, calends, noses, ideas, fireworks, nuptials, euds, orgies, victuals, obsequies, masses, mumps, hys-erics, rickets." —[Breckenridge News.]

A very good Virginia recipe for curing hams and shoulders, which may be used in the same proportions for a smaller quantity, is this: Take for one thousand pounds, three pecks of fine salt, three pounds of powdered saltpetre, one-half gallon of molasses, two tablespoonsful of red pepper. Mix all together thoroughly, and rub well the fresh side of the hams and hocks. Smoke with hickory chips, and throw a few pepper pods into the fire with the chips.

The prohibition convention, which met at Louisville last week, did the handsome thing by Dick Tate in tendering him a Fox chase next August. —[Breckenridge News.]

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you. For sale by Penny & McAllister.

Positive Cure for Piles. To the people of this county we would say that we have been given the agency of Dr. Marchal's Italian Pile Ointment—emphatically guaranteed to cure or money refunded—Internal, External, Blind, Bleeding or Itching Piles. Price 50 cents a box. No cure, no pay. Penny & McAllister, Druggists.

Daughters, Wives and Mothers. We emphatically guarantee Dr. Marchal's Cathartic, a female remedy, to cure Female Diseases, such as Ovarian troubles, Inflammation and Ulceration, Falling and displacement or bearing down feeling, Irregularities, Barrenness, Change of life, Leucorrhoea, besides many weaknesses springing from the above, like Headache, Bloating, Spinal Weakness, Sleeplessness, Nervous debility, Palpitation of the heart, &c. For sale by druggists. Prices $1 and $1.50 per bottle. Send to Dr. Marchal, Ulster, N. Y., for pamphlet, free. For sale by Penny & McAllister, Druggists.

Destroy that Sigh. One may feel that he is getting old, but he naturally dislikes that anything about his appearance should advise others of the fact. Yet nothing does this so effectually as thin and falling hair. No woman wants to marry a man who shows signs of age. Parker's Hair Balsam is worth to you, in this regard, more than its weight in diamonds. Use it and have plentiful and glossy hair. Many have had every trace of grayness removed and bald spots covered by using a single bottle.

—IMMENSE STOCK OF—

WALL PAPER!

—TRIMMED AND—

READY FOR THE WALL!

—AT—

M'ROBERTS & STAGG'S.

ALL PRICES AND STYLES.

Things that are True and Things that are not True.

It is not true that the Czar of Russia sent the Mikado of Japan to buy Dr. Bourns' stock of Sassafras Oil to grease the British Lion's fire.

It is not true that the Sultan of Turkey sent the Khan of Tartary to buy his supply of spring Medicines from Bourns.

It is not true that the Czarine and the Sultana sent the Czarowitz to buy their Cosmetics from Bourns.

No! neither the old Russia nor Turkey gal can get them. Bourns wants them for the Lincoln county ladies.

The Khedive of Egypt, the Sagamore of the Sioux, the Sachem of the Choctaws, the Visior of the Sultan, the Hoopdard of Moldavia, nor the Pasha with his three haremets can buy Bourns' large stock of Medicines, Fancy Articles, Eyepieces, Mixed Paints, Stationery, &c., &c. He wants them for his home trade.

He wants them for the fair ladies and gallant gentlemen, the sweet children and dear grandmothers of our own county.

He wants them for you, gentle reader, that you may find anything kept in a first-class Drug Store at M. L. Bourns' New Drug Store, Stanford, Ky.

B. K. WEAREN,

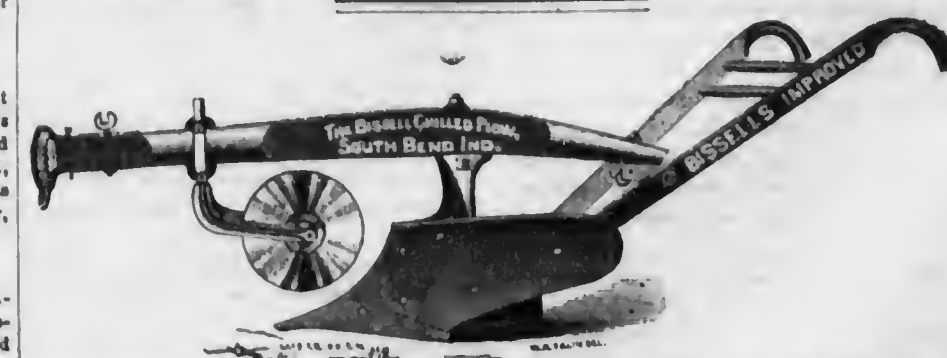

UNDERTAKER,

—AND—

Dealer in Furniture!

A Full and complete assortment of Furniture, embracing everything from the Cheapest to the Finest Parlor Suttens. No need to go to the large cities to make your purchases, no matter what quantity or quality you want, as I can and will duplicate any prices you can obtain elsewhere, freight being added. Also a full assortment of Coffins, Cases, Shrouds and Robes, embracing all the New Styles, both cheap and expensive. Ware rooms opposite St. Asaph Hotel, Stanford, Ky.

PLOWS! PLOWS!

Dayton Steel Plows, Champion Steel Plows, Champion Sulky Plows, Lime Stone Plows, Lone Star Plows, Bisell Chilled Plows, Gale Chilled Plows, Maysville Hill Side Plows, Malta Double Shovel Plows, Minkle Double Shovel Plows, Halls Double Shovel Plows, Minkle Pony Plows, Hall's Pony Plows, Malta Cultivators, No end to Plows! All kinds of Plows! Plows of all sizes! Plows at all Prices! Plows from $2.50 to $50.

—FOR SALE BY—

GEO. D. WEAREN, Agt.

Also dealer in Buggies, Carriages, Surreys, Spring Wagons, Farm Wagons, Harvesting Machines, Planters, Harrows and all kinds of Farming Machinery.

Circuit Judge Owsley paid us a pleasant call a day or two since and during the conversation it turned on Gov. Knott. An open paper lay before us which charged that official with running off to avoid the responsibility of the Neal case, and we asked the judge his opinion of the matter. He replied, "Some of the newspapers have been very unjust to Gov. Knott. I know the man too well to believe that he would dodge any responsibility. He had fully decided when he left to let the law take its course against Neal, knowing as most men of intelligence did, that everything had been done to prove his innocence and no evidence had been forthcoming. There is not much sentimentality about Gov. Knott; he looks alone at the cold facts of the case, and while he may possibly be led to some extent by his friends, popular clamor goes for nothing with him. I happen to know personally that the health of Mrs. Knott, who has always been delicate, was such as to imperatively demand a change of climate for her and the Gov. acted as every true husband should in adopting any suggestion for her improvement."

The agony is over. Lt. Gov. Hindman granted no further reprieve in the Neal case and at 1 P. M. Friday, that noted criminal was ushered into eternity with a lie on his lips, for the last words he uttered were those protesting his innocence. It has been over three years since the three fiends, Ellis, Craft and Neal, outraged, murdered and burned Fannie Gibbons and Emma Carico at Ashland. More than 30 lives have been sacrificed directly and indirectly by the crime and hundreds of thousands of dollars have been forced from the pockets of tax-payers to protect and defend the miserable trio. At last justice and the laws have been vindicated and it is to be hoped for the good name of the State that no such miserable farce will ever be again enacted within her borders as has been played from first to last in this case.

The following from the Louisville Times is an unvarnished statement of undeniable facts: Let not the outside barbarians deceive themselves. All Kentuckians are not hopping mad because Cleveland has ignored John S. Williams' and Phil Thompson's applications for office. Within the past year Kentuckians, by their votes, retired both of these distinguished fellow citizens to private life, and in their heart of hearts the greater and better half of our people indorse the President's indorsement of their previous action. Let us tell the truth occasionally, even though it shame the devil.

RHEX BOYD, who wants to go as Minister to Chili, will likely have his ambition crushed in the bud, unless he can refute the charge of burglary, of which a sympathetic jury acquitted him, notwithstanding the proof was against him. In this connection the Louisville Commercial remarks: "The Rhex Boyds and Phil Thompsons, who have not been able to secure success at their homes, are not the kind of men to be credited as representative Kentuckians abroad."

Kentucky don't get in the notion often but when she does, she hangs her offenders by pairs. In addition to the performance of Mr. Neal mentioned in another article, John Sexton was hung at Barboursville for the killing of George Rounten, whom he seduced into a thicket, murdered and robbed. Sexton like Neal proclaimed his innocence and both, according to their assertions, are now walking the golden streets of paradise.

YOUR Uncle Tom Hendricks seems to be a pretty important man at Washington. He signed Mr. Miller's petition for Commissioner and he rode into the office over Phil Thompson and the army of political asses, who urged his appointment. Then he suggests one Aquilla Jones for postmaster at Indianapolis and, notwithstanding the protests of the Congressmen, Mr. Jones secured the cake. Office-seekers might make a note of this.

SUMNER Cox could hardly have thought that he would be the beneficiary of his bill which passed last winter raising the pay of the Minister to Turkey from $7,500 to $10,000, yet he is accused of having had his weather eye on the position when he presented it. If he succeeds, however, in making the Sultan laugh at some of his jokes, the extra money will have been earned, and the country will not begrudge it to him.

THE Somerset Telegraph joins the noble band who advocate the establishment of a whipping-post for certain criminals and the Breckenridge News remarks with emphasis: "We are decidedly in favor of the whipping post." Let all the papers speak now on this important subject.

THE Stanford Journal is in favor of the next Legislature abolishing the State Board of Equalization. We second that notion and we stand backed by 5,000 voters in Hardin county, who are kicking like steers at the injustice of the law.—Elizabethtown News.

THE Grace Hawthorne Dramatic Company has a beautiful young woman for a press agent and consequently her troupe and luminous in complimentary newspaper notices. The boys can not resist the charming creature, you know.

THE Legislature of Tennessee has repealed the Railroad Commission act and if our Kentucky law-makers will do likewise next winter all will be forgiven. The office costs more than $10,000 per year, while its value to the State can be reckoned in mills and parts of mills.

It is said at Washington that the offensive partisans who hold the offices of Collector for this, the Lexington and the Owensboro Districts, are to be displaced at once. Judge Owsley has gone to Washington to see about his chances.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—Madison Pigg, of Laurel, dropped dead of heart disease.

—Miss Lelia Henley has been appointed postmaster at Cloverport.

—There are 2,200 vacancies in the smaller postoffices through the country.

—The President has requested the Senate to remain in session until Thursday next.

—The boiler of the steamer Mark Twain exploded near Memphis. Five persons were killed.

—Cincinnati has decided not to have an Exposition this year, the last having proved so costly an investment.

—Alexander McCone is to be solicitor of the Treasury; another of the offices coveted by Phil Thompson seems to have eluded his grasp.

—Thomas Nast, the great caricaturist of Harper's Weekly, will give an entertainment at Masonic Temple, Louisville, next Thursday night.

—The democrats of St. Louis nominated David R. Francis for Mayor, upon the 182d ballot, after an all night's session.

—Jordan Taylor, colored, who murdered Silly Saunders in Christian county last October, has been sentenced to death.

—So far from being dissatisfied, the rank and file of Kentucky democracy love Cleveland most for the appointments he has not made.—[Louisville Times.]

—There was a free fight in the Ohio Legislature the other day started by the irrepressible and drunken Allen O. Myers, a member of that body. He will be expelled.

—A new Congressional Apportionment Bill has been passed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania by a party vote. It gives the republicans nineteen and the democrats nine districts.

—Gen. Anson Stager, General Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph service, died in Chicago. He was born in Ontario county, N. Y., April 20, 1825. He began life as a printer.

—Horses and carriages belonging to the Interior Department were sold at auction. The Secretary's pair of bays sold for $315, and the large double carriage for $360.

—It is understood, says a Washington special, that the President will nominate Gen. Joseph E. Johnston, of Virginia, Commissioner of Railroads, and Norman J. Coleman, of Missouri, Commissioner of Agriculture.

—The State Executive Committee of the Woman Suffrage party of New York has written a letter to President Cleveland asking the removal of Gov. Pierce, of Dakota, for vetoing the Woman Suffrage Bill passed by the Legislature.

—Gen. Fitzhugh Lee has forwarded to Gov. Cameron his resignation as Commander of the Virginia militia. This revives the report that he is to go abroad in a diplomatic capacity. He has been prominently mentioned for the Russian mission, but it is conceded that he can be the next Governor of Virginia if he will accept the nomination.

—A dispatch says Wm. Venable, of Danville, is an applicant for the Internal Revenue Collectorship of that district. He is a warm personal friend of Commissioner Miller, who acted as best man at Mr. Venable's wedding. Mr. Venable recently paid a visit here and had a long interview with the Commissioner. This is evidently a reference to Mr. M. W. Venable.

—Attorney General Garland is determined that all Assistant District Attorneys must go, as unlawful luxuries. In almost every judicial district there are one or more of these Assistant Attorneys, getting from $1,000 to $3,000 a year, and the aggregate expense is very large.

—B. Dunham, who recently resigned the position of general manager of the L. & N., has resigned, and J. T. Harrison, who succeeded Mr. Dunham on the L. & N., and afterward left to join him on the B. & O., has also resigned. It is said that the latter will return to take charge on the L. & N. on April 1st.

—Postmaster-General Vilas says that postmasters, even of the fourth class, will not be removed unless charges are filed against them. This class of officers have the country and cross-road offices, and are not appointed by the President, but by the Postmaster General. They have no fixed tenure of office, but retain their places at the pleasure of the head of the Postoffice Department.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—A. C. Wood was acquitted at Frankfort of rape and fornication.

—The London Circuit Court began yesterday with 8 murder cases on the docket.

—Twelve miners were killed by a fire-damp explosion at McAllister, Indian Territory.

—William Jones, a stock-trader of Montgomery, blew his brains out Sunday, without any apparent cause.

RELIGIOUS.

—The Baptist meeting at Hopkinsville closed with 38 additions, 33 by experience and 5 by letter.

—Prof. J. W. McGarvey will deliver his lectures on Palestine with stereopticon views, at the Christian church here, evening of April 17th.

—Dr. Guerrant is holding a meeting at Charleston, S. C., which had resulted in 107 conversions at last accounts.—[Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.]

—Counting those confirmed in the Catholic church, the total additions to the city churches were over 1,300 last week. More than 200 will be received at various churches to-day. Many of the revivals continue this week.—[Courier Journal.]

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Next Saturday is horse show day here.

—Bennett Cloyd, Jr., suffered a relapse Saturday night.

—On Saturday Mrs. Moran, daughter-in-law of C. F. Moran, died near this place.

—Mrs. Jane Williams, mother of W. R. Williams, died in Hustonville on Sunday evening.

—Rev. Randolph, of Danville, preached two sermons in the Presbyterian church Sunday, to large and deeply interested audiences.

—The entertainment given by the ladies of the Christian church Friday night is spoken of in terms of high commendation. Financially it was eminently successful. The net proceeds are reported at something over $100.

—The writer was out taking meteorological (help Keller to set up that word) observations on Sunday evening between Stanford and Hustonville and reports ten miles of weather mean enough to have swamped a first class signal service station.

—The North side of the horse he rode was almost denuded by the vollied hail, and his own rather remarkable facial comeliness suffered materially from the unsparring pellet.

—In a discussion a few days since as to the probability of Geo. O. Barnes "belting the globe with gospel" and re-entering Kentucky from the West, the question was asked: "How can he get the means to circumnavigate the earth?" to which it was pitifully replied: "Look at what he has already done and judge if the world has the means to prevent him—provided he considers it his mission to be accomplished."

—School Trustees are requested to bestir themselves in order to be in readiness for the next campaign. It is now the time for making out the census lists. Blanks for this purpose can be had at any time in Stanford or Hustonville. Many have been distributed. They will be sent by mail as far as postoffices are known. Let school houses be put in order so that the children may get the benefit of the whole session. I trust the people of our county will take hold of the great educational question, and make it practical and beneficial. This is fast becoming one of the important questions of our State. Lying as it does at the very foundation of our prosperity, fraught as it is with the most momentous interests we dare not ignore it. Legislation will inevitably be called for, and called for in tones that will arouse attention. Too much time has been wasted. Let us get earnestly to work.

—Col. W. L. Thomas, of Lexington, has been in town since Saturday. Mr. James R. Marks left for Washington city today. Mr. P. P. McGorray, of New Mexico, late of this place, is an applicant with strong backing for the position of Surveyor of Customs at El Paso, New Mexico. Mrs. Nannie Martin went to McKinney Saturday to see her niece who is very ill. Mr. B. F. Phillips is absent in Jessamine and Scott counties. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wakefield have returned from New Orleans. Mrs. Debora Hackney, of Xenia, Ohio, who visited her son J. M. Hackney, of this place, is dead in her 82d year. Mr. Hackney went to Ohio last week to attend the funeral. Miss Mary Robertson is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. P. Holmes, in Bonham, Texas.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—Mrs. Mary Warren returned to day from Louisville where she has been spending the winter with her children, Mrs. Dr. Halloway and Mrs. I. B. Kalfus.

—The sale of Mr. H. E. Samuel's house-keeping goods took place Saturday evening. Mr. S. has sold his residence and will for the present board at Gilcher's Hotel.

—Mr. Geo. Cogar, of this place, and Miss Lydia Payne were married Wednesday at the residence of the bride's parents in Mercer county. They are now absent in New Orleans.

—Dr. D. C. Tucker will soon return from Marion county to practice his profession in Danville. The Dr. has many friends in Boyle county and is a favorite with his brethren of the medical profession.

—Miss Mamie McDowell gave a reception Friday night to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hundley. It was a very enjoyable affair and was attended by quite a number of the friends of the young couple and their hostesses.

—Progressive euchre parties are the popular amusement here now. Mrs. W. S. Rowland gave one Wednesday and Mrs. W. G. Dunlap on Friday night, both of which were much enjoyed by those who attended.

—Dr. McMurtry, Johnston, Dunlap and Mr. L. Eddy have called a meeting of citizens to be held at the court house to-day (30th inst.) to consult on measures necessary to protect the town from cholera the coming summer. Would it not be a good notion for adjoining towns to take similar precautions?

—Mr. R. M. Durham, of the Boyle National Bank of Danville, desires to be understood that those who circulate the report that he is to leave Danville and take a position with his father, Hon. M. J. Durham, at Washington, do so without any authority from him, and furthermore that there is no truth in the report.

—A number of young men in town have handsomely fitted up a room over Robertson & Kinnaird's which they call "The Club Hall." It is their purpose to meet twice a week, and enjoy themselves with music and literary exercises. Mr. L. D. Cox, is President. Mr. Jno. Murphy, Vice President, Mr. W. P. Scott, Secretary and H. W. Mills, Secretary.

—The Boyle National Bank, of Danville, which succeeds the Central National Bank, begins to-day, Monday, the charter of the latter having expired on the 28th. The capital is the same as the C. N. viz $200,000. The officers are the same as the old organization. The law governing National Banks required all deposits to be transferred by check and the depositors of the Central National have so far followed up the new organization that begins to-day with 90 per cent. of the old deposits. The remainder will no doubt follow as soon as they can be reached in person or by mail. This indicates a very prompt following of the customers of the old bank to the new. In the re distribution of the stock, the bank expects to secure many new friends and the business will be an improvement on the old Central.

—Col. W. L. Thomas, of Lexington, has been in town since Saturday. Mr. James R. Marks left for Washington city today. Mr. P. P. McGorray, of New Mexico, late of this place, is an applicant with strong backing for the position of Surveyor of Customs at El Paso, New Mexico. Mrs. Nannie Martin went to McKinney Saturday to see her niece who is very ill. Mr. B. F. Phillips is absent in Jessamine and Scott counties. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Wakefield have returned from New Orleans. Mrs. Debora Hackney, of Xenia, Ohio, who visited her son J. M. Hackney, of this place, is dead in her 82d year. Mr. Hackney went to Ohio last week to attend the funeral. Miss Mary Robertson is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. P. Holmes, in Bonham, Texas.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and all, farewell!" Deputy Carpenter adjusted the black cap. As its folds settled about his head, he ejaculated: "Lord have mercy and receive my soul. Receive my soul, Lord." He kept ejaculating these utterances till the signal was given. Sheriff Holcomb cut the rope with a hatchet, and he dropped with a sharp catching of his breath. In ten minutes his pulse had ceased to beat. He died with hardly a struggle.

—The last act in the Neal tragedy is thus described: Neal ascended the scaffold between two Deputy Sheriffs; his step was firm, but his face was pale and froth was upon his lips. "Gentlemen," he said in a clear voice, "I am here to suffer on the scaffold for a heinous crime I did not commit. You all know this is no place to tell a lie. I tell you all I am innocent. Now, I have only this to say, farewell, one and

Mail train going North.....	12 45 P. M.
	1 00 P. M.
Express train going South.....	1 15 P. M.
	1 30 P. M.
	1 45 P. M.

The above is calculated on standard time. Solar time is about 20 minutes faster.

LOCAL NOTICES.

BUY your school books from Penny & McAllister.

LANIER'S Garden Seed, fresh and genuine at Penny & McAllister's.

WATCHES and Jewelry repaired on short notice and warranted by Penny & McAllister.

A COMPLETE stock of jewelry, latest style. Rockford watches a specialty. Penny & McAllister.

For coughs, colds, &c., use Comp. Syrup of White Pine, in 25 and 50c bottles. Prepared by McAllister & Stagg.

FARMERS, READ THIS.—Go to Dr. M. L. Boone's drug store and get one package of Sam A. Clark's Hog Remedy. If you are not satisfied after using it your money will be refunded.

PERSONAL.

—MR. and MRS. J. C. HAYS went to Louisville yesterday.

—MISS RHODA HAIL has gone to visit Miss Hanna Fair at McKinney.

—MISS MOLLIE JOHNSTON, of Lancaster, is the guest of Miss Ellen Wear.

—MRS. JOHN METCALF, of Nicholasville, is visiting her son, Mr. Thomas Metcalf.

—MISS LITTLE HEIM has returned from a visit to Mrs. R. W. Lillard, at Lebanon.

—MRS. JOHN W. PROCTOR, of Danville, and her daughter, Mrs. Georgia Duncan, of Nicholasville, were the guests of Mrs. S. C. Trueheart last week.

—OUR young friend, Wallace E. Varney, who has been laying awake nights fixing plans to capture the Assistant District Attorneyship, is about to have his labor and his pains go for naught. The Attorney General has decided to abolish the class of office he seeks as useless and unauthorized.

—MR. W. E. GIBBS, of Shelby City, was here Saturday, visiting old friends. He is a candidate to represent Boyle county in the General Assembly and so far has no opposition and from what we can learn will not have any. He is a progressive, well-posted man and would serve his county with credit.

—JIMMY SAM M. BOONE, of the Somerset Telegraph, was here, Saturday, greatly worried over an abusive article that had appeared in the Winchester Democrat about him, but we convinced him that he had brought the thing on himself by refusing to accept Mrs. Leslie's letter as an apology for the first offensive paragraph and instead had retorted in a severe manner. The Democrat was unnecessarily caustic, but no doubt its remarks were intended in a Pickwickian way and we are confident that they will be withdrawn and apologized for, when the editor is approached in a proper way.

LOCAL MATTERS.

RUSSELL county sweet potatoes at Bright & Curran's.

FRESH fish on hand at all times at J. T. Harris' bakery.

LANIER'S garden seeds in bulk at McAllister & Stagg's.

THE Beaver Creek Coal Company, of Paducah, lost their locomotive and the house it stood in Friday by fire.

I HAVE 10,000 feet of nice lumber for sale at Crab Orchard. Apply to W. R. Dillion in that place. B. K. Wear.

AS I AM scarce of money, my terms will now be cash for meat or at the end of the week. Thankful for the very liberal patronage heretofore I still ask a continuance. W. F. Ramsey.

ONE of the most charming pictures that has gladdened ye editor's vision in many a day was that of a pretty young lady, with her beautiful auburn hair floating in the breeze, chasing her hat, which a playful March wind had lifted from her head. It was finally caught and the vision vanished, but the scene was one which could never be transferred to canvas.

WE have heard of a Mr. Mirror in Lincoln county. People down there should be able to see themselves as others see them. "Oh, we saw some power of gifts gle us." &c.—(French Tipton, The Thin. We have a postoffice in this county named Mirror, and if Mr. Tipton really longs to see himself as "others see him" and find what they think of his execrating column in the Register, he can come down and we will provide him with conveyance to the point named.

THE news comes from Riley's Station that the now famous dog killer with three of its young, was killed Sunday by a man named Powers. We had hoped it would have paid us a visit before being taken off as there are many cures of low and high degree here that should be dispatched, but alas it is no more. Those who have seen it state that no such animal is put down in the books and that it is a fearfully and wonderfully looking beast.

THE race for the democratic nomination for representative in the next General Assembly seems to be made up, and next Saturday in primary election, the party will be called on to choose whether John H. Miller, W. F. McClary, Dr. J. D. Pettus or John W. Bright shall be made the standard bearer. They all are honest men and men of intelligence, but at this critical era in our State affairs, it would be better for us if they had more experience in public matters. Since it is the custom, however, to select only from among those who aspire to office, we hope to see the best of the four chosen.

GARDEN Seed, Onion Sets and Seed Potatoes at Warren & Metcalf's.

IF you buy your new carriage see the new light Columbus Barouche at Geo. D. Wear's.

AS OUR partnership has been dissolved by agreement we want all those indebted to us now to come and settle. Williams & Ramsey.

JUDGE OWSELEY has adjourned his court over till next Monday. The grand jury only returned 41 indictments, a fewer number than for some years.

THE Lancaster correspondent of the London Echo is cruel enough to say that the Kersey Combination butchered "Lady Audley's Secret" in a truly scientific manner.

"WELL, I'll be-dog-goned if I know, Judge," was the response of a lady from the knots to a question in Judge Owseley's court Friday, and it came apparently so naturally that the Judge joined in the smile that ran around the room.

THE Jurors in the Carson case were a unit for manslaughter on the first ballot, not a single one being for acquittal as is reported. None of them stood for less than ten years, while several were for 15 to 21 years.

ONE of the grounds offered by Carson's attorneys for a new trial is that the jury saw the INTERIOR JOURNAL which said in speaking of the case, "It is only circumstantially proved, yet beyond a doubt, that Carson did the shooting." The jurors are men of more than ordinary intelligence who would not likely be moved by so slight a statement even if they had read it, which they state they did not do, and they are all honorable men.

TWO more applicants for the Stanford Postoffice have shied their castors in the ring, as it were. They are Mr. John W. Rout and Capt. W. Fortunatus McKinney. The former went up to Richmond Saturday to interview Gov. McCleary, while the latter contents himself by getting signatures to his petition. Capt. Richards thinks he has the dead wood on the boys, but we will bet any of them a ginger cake that Ben Altord will have charge of the office to the end of his term.

"OLD HICKORY." NIECE.—There is living in this county on Kings Mountain an old lady, who is now 70 years of age, was here Saturday to defend an attempt to dispossess her of some land of which she has had undisputed possession for 41 years and fearing that the blood of a President flowed in her veins, we sought an interview with her. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Jackson and she was a daughter of William, an own brother of Andrew Jackson. She was born in Monroe County, this State, and at an early age was married to Dr. Elijah Waters, of Tennessee, who died some twenty eight years ago. Remarkably preserved for her advanced years, she still takes a pardonable pride in telling of her relationship to "Old Hickory" and of how once when she was a little girl, she saw the General dressed in his military clothes with a bright shining sword dangling from his side. She had eleven children, nine girls and two boys, seven of the former surviving and one of the latter. These last are all married and the children and grandchildren number 48 descendants of the old lady. Mr. Waters has seen better days than she now enjoys, and it is evident that for years there has been a struggle with her to keep the wolf from her door.

NO VERDICT rendered in our courts for years has given so general satisfaction as that which sends William Carson to the penitentiary for 10 years for the killing of Sam West, at Hustonville, last December. True there is great sympathy for his aged father, his loving mother and his brothers and sisters, and a feeling of regret that one so young should have advanced so far in crime as to receive such a sentence, so lamentable before he has reached his majority, but those who know of his early development in criminal inclinations and of the trouble he has given to his parents and to the courts, feel relieved to know that for ten years he can no further disgrace the one or disturb the other. The case was admirably managed for the commonwealth and Mr. Warren deserves the highest commendation. He was no pleasant task; for he had always been a friend of Mr. Carson; had supported him in his various races for offices of honor and profit and had repeatedly held upon his knee the youth, whom he was now compelled to prosecute. But he regarded his oath and did his duty nobly. He argued from the testimony that Carson had stationed himself so that he would be concealed in the darkness, while young West, who would pass that way, would be plainly visible to him when the light of a neighboring drug store flashed upon his person. Then with the determination of a demon and the cowardliness of a midnight assassin he fired the shot which buried young West unprepared into eternity. His speech had a visible effect on the jury and was much complimented. The opening speech for the commonwealth by Mr. R. R. West was also highly spoken of and it was indeed very creditable. Judge Sandley and Col. Hill, who spoke for the accused, made all they could for his favor in a very bad case, by a resort to sophistry. We learn from them that an appeal will be taken on the grounds that Carson's statement when he delivered himself up, was not permitted. The fate of this young man should be an awful warning to the rising generation who imagine that to be a bully and a quick man on trigger is the right of mortal ambition. The end of such a man is usually death or a disgrace worse than death, the humiliation of friends and pain and anguish to loving parents, whose hairs are brought in sorrow to the grave by his acts.

A CAR-LOAD of Northern Seed Oats to arrive to day at Bright & Curran's.

ON a certificate from the jail physicians that Dolph Bailey, the negro accused of the murder of Howard Dudley, colored, was dying of consumption, Judge Owseley reduced his bail to $100, which he gave and is now breathing purer air.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE WEST END.—I have fitted up an undertaker's establishment at Hustonville and with a nice hearse and a full line of handsome caskets am prepared to serve the public. J. T. Sutton has charge of the business. B. K. Wear.

A BLINDING snow storm raged for several hours Saturday evening and notwithstanding it melted very fast several inches of the beautiful covered the ground Sunday morning and the trees were loaded down in the dead of winter. A warm sun soon changed the appearance of things and by 2 o'clock all the snow had vanished. Yesterday was a typical March day, cloudy, cold and windy.

THE attention of the town authorities is respectfully called to the filthy condition of that part of Stanford called Maxville. Dead hogs and other filth have been permitted to lie in the street which runs through there, for ten days or two weeks. The marshal of the town is required by law to look to these things and he should be required to do so, or his pay should be stopped. In view of the fact that cholera is apprehended in this county this year the cleanliness of all the streets, alleys and every place in town should be looked after vigilantly and often.

THE trial of William Adams for the killing of Ike Moore on the 6th of last December, resulted Saturday in a hung jury, which stood three for acquittal and nine for two years in the penitentiary. A suggestion was made that it would be best for Adams to accept a compromise verdict of two years, to which he readily agreed and a second jury found accordingly. As made out it was a pretty bad case against Adams, and he seems perfectly satisfied to get off so lightly. It will be remembered that he got into a row with Moore near McKinney and that in a pistol duel which ensued, he shot Moore five times and was himself shot through the lungs, from which it was thought for a long time he would die. A little incident occurred when Adams was brought out of jail for trial, which added another illustration of a mother's love, she, poor, old woman, wrinkled with age and thinly clad, had come ten miles or more through the disagreeable weather to see him and when she did she rushed to his seat, threw her arms around his neck and kissed him. Instead of returning her embraces and mingling his tears with hers, he pushed her away, gently enough to be sure, but sufficiently to be observed. He was charged with the terrible crime of murder but a mother's tender love was still his and it was as little as he could have done to have repaid her solicitude and devotion with at least a show of affection. But the poor mothers repulsed and neglected, continue to love, stronger if possible, when shame and disgrace come upon their offspring.

MARRIAGES.

—A lady in Florida was a wife, a widow, a mother and a bride again all in one short year.

—Mr. William G. Gooch and Miss Cynthia Gooch were married Sunday at Harrison Gooch's in this county.

—A couple of children each aged 17 obtained license and were married in this county Sunday. Samuel Griffin is the name of the youthful husband and Miss Deille Jackson was the name of the baby wife.

DEATHS.

—Mr. Arch Saow died Saturday of a cancerous sore on his leg, aged about 65 years. He was an honest, upright and clever man, greatly esteemed by his neighbors.

—Mr. Finley Campbell, of the Turnersville neighborhood, died Saturday morning, very suddenly. His wife and son had gone to McKinney, and when they returned they found him a corpse. He was nearly 70 years of age.

—Mrs. Mary Moran, daughter of Mr. W. T. Royalty and sister of Mrs. Spears Fisher, died Saturday from the effects of childbirth and her remains were interred at McKinney, Sunday. She was a loving wife and a dutiful daughter and her loss causes the deepest grief.

—The awful news of the death of Mrs. Judge P. B. Muir, at her home in Pewee Valley, from the effects of burns received about 12 o'clock Saturday night, reached here yesterday. Mrs. Muir had been sick for some time and got up at the hour named to take some medicine. Her clothing caught while she was at the fireplace and before assistance arrived she was so badly burned that she died at 10 o'clock Sunday night. Her son Sidney, who was called to the scene by her screams, was badly burned about the face and hands. Mrs. Muir was a sister of Mrs. S. S. McRoberts, of this piece, who was on a visit to her at the time of her death.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—Seed Sweet Potatoes at T. R. Walton's.

—One of Mr. John Y. Myers' splendid pair of mules broke his leg and yesterday had to be shot. He would not have taken $500 for the pair.

—Mr. C. L. Crow has purchased of Mr. R. H. Crow his fine pedigree stallion Nobby, for a handsome sum, and offers his services to the public in another column.

—Nearly one-half the lambs dropped this season in this section are reported dead. This has been one of the worst winters ever experienced in this latitude on young stock of all sorts.—[Glasgow Times.

—To rent on shares, 60 acres of No. 1 tobacco land, first-rate barn, all improvements furnished, boarding if required. Address A. P. Van de Water, Stanford, Ky.

—Mr. E. S. Powell, of the West End, is again in the field with his beautiful, combined stallion, Abdallah Glenco, which he will stand at the low price of $10 or $12.50 to insure. He also stands a fine Jack at $10 to insure. See description and pedigree of both in another column.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

DR. W. B. PENNY, DENTIST, STANFORD, KENTUCKY. Office on Lancaster street, next door to Ingram's Journal office. Office hours from 8 to 12 A. M. and 1 to 5 P. M. Anesthetics administered when necessary. 1154-1171

Hotel and Bar-Room For Rent At Rowland Station (Richmond Junction) Ky., from May 1st, next. A good garden, &c., attached. For particulars address me at Stanford. This is the only bar at that point. 1154-1171

THOMAS FERREL.

T. J. BOSLEY, HOUSE PAINTER! AND PAPER HANGER.

Free Ceiling Paper Hanging a Specialty. All Orders Promptly Attended to. STANFORD, KY. 409-411

FIRE INSURANCE.

JNO. M. PHILIPS, STANFORD, KY. Represents the Best and most Prompt-Paying Companies and his rates are very low. Give him a call. [2-4]

Millinery!

I'll have received and am daily adding to my stock a splendid line of Millinery of the latest and most stylish goods, which I invite the ladies to call and examine at my store on Lancaster street, confident that I can give entire satisfaction. A Dress-Making Department is attached and presided over by competent ladies. 1154-1171

MRS. HOODY HARRIS, Stanford, Ky.

LAST CHANCE

1. I have Government Lands (some of which are suitable for general farming and stock raising purposes)—before chance of laws as per bill now pending in Congress. $20 IN THE DEVILS LAKE, TURTLE MOUNTAIN, NORTH ACRES FREE

DAKOTA ACRES FREE

2. I have 2,000,000 Acres of R. R. Lands in Minnesota at the low price of $10.00 per acre and upwards. Sectional Map, and full particulars mailed free to address by L. H. WARREN, Gen'l Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn. and Manitoba R. R., St. Paul, Minn.

PUBLIC SALE!

I will, as Administrator of Jones L. Adams, dec'd., at his late residence in Garrard county,

THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1885,

Sell to the highest bidder the

PERSONAL PROPERTY

Of his estate, consisting in part of 2,600 or more bushels of Wheat, about 500 barrels of Corn, 700 bushels of Shelled Oats, 10 tons of Hay, 8 cowboys, 10 yearling Steers, 6 Cows and Heifers, 7 Calves, about 55 sheep, some Horse Stock, Hay, Farming Utensils, &c.

Terms:—All sums of $10 and under, cash; over that amount, note with good security, payable in bank, with interest from day of sale. JOHN K. BAUGHMAN, Admr. [9-11] LEE DOWN, Auctioneer.

Abdallah Glenco!

Will make the season of 1885 at my stable, 2½ miles south of Hustonville, on the Hustonville & Liberty road. Abdallah Glenco is by Joe Elmo, No. 2450, trial 2:27, record 2:10. Joe Elmo is the sire of D. C. S., record 2:23½. (D. C. S. sold for $9,000 the past winter. Review record 2:28½; Lycurgus' record 2:38 and Mark Wadell's record 2:39. Joe Elmo is by St. Elmo, 2:35; (by Alexander's Abdallah, 1:55) he by Kydyke's Hambletonian, No. 10. Joe Elmo's last dam by Mambrino No. 10. Abdallah Glenco's last dam Nettie S. by Willie D., (by Foreigner, by Imp. Glenco) 2:40 dam Bettie C., by Cunningham's Copper Bottom; 2:40 dam Minerva Duncan, by Imp. Buzzard, (thoroughbred). Willie D.'s dam Starlight by Cherokee, (by Imp. Plango). Abdallah Glenco's colts are fine and large and good movers. Both saddle and harness. I have one of his colts that trotted 1,200 yards on a 300-yard circle at the rate of 2:40, timed by G. M. Glenco, Hustonville, Ky., without any handing. I also have another that is about as good. Here is a combination of the best trotting and running crosses in existence. Abdallah Glenco has but little training but trotted on Hutchings & Pope's track in Boyle county, Ky., which is ten seconds slow, in 2:15, six weeks or two months handing. His wife and son, he showed a 2:30 gait frequently. He is also a first-class saddle horse and his colts are invariably sold as breeding stock. Persons wishing to breed will do well to examine my horse and colts before breeding elsewhere. He is a beautiful brown, 15½ hands high, superior bone and muscle. Stands for the small sum of $10 the season or $10.50 to insure a living colt. I will also stand my Jack.

Bob M'Elroy

At $10 to insure. Bob M. is 15½ hands brown with nearly nose and a No. 1 breeder. Got by the Ed. Campbell jack, he by Robinson's Lampton, by Imp. Mammoth.

Not responsible for accidents or escapes, but mares left with me will be well cared for on reasonable terms. [9-11] R. A. POWELL.

NOBBY!

The sire of trotters and roadsters and more fancy and first-class Eastern horses than any other stallion in Kentucky, will make the season of 1885 four miles west of Stanford, directly on the Knoblick pike, and will be permitted to serve mares at the extremely low price of $20 the season or $30 to insure.

Gram furnished at $2 per month. Due care will be taken to prevent accidents or escapes, but will not be responsible should any occur.

Description and Pedigree:—Nobby is a jet black with star in forehead and two white feet, 16 hands 1 inch high, fine mane and tail, good, bony leg, beautiful head and neck, excellent shoulder, back and loin—in fact, faultless in symmetry; and will guarantee (here doesn't live a stallion possessed of a better disposition, and these qualities he invariably imparts to his progeny. As an evidence that he will produce very fast horses, when crossed on good mares is the fact that some of his very speediest colts have not only but a Sir Wallace dam to recommend them. This of itself is conclusive proof that the speed comes from the sire. Nobby is the sire of Nobby, Jr., record 2:23½, sold to W. C. Fair, of Ohio, for $5,000. One of his colts trotted last season with very little handing in 2:30. Nobby was sired by Garrard Chief the sire of Basil Duke, 2:28½; Mambrino Hippo 2:25½; Red Cook 2:28½; Bill Amy 2:35; Garrard Chief by Mambrino Chief, sire of Lady Thorn, 2:18½; Woodford Mambrino; 4th dam by Aratus; 3d dam by Mambrino; 2d dam by Lady Thorn, 2:18½; Nobby's dam a thoroughbred mare, said to be by Imp. Brandy. Having with me shall I forget the insurance in all cases. C. L. CROW, Stanford, Ky.

I will also stand a FINE YOUNG JACK that will be permitted to serve a few good mares at $10 to insure. This Jack will be 8 years old the 7th of September, is fully 15 hands high. He was sired by the Jack that was sold by W. L. Caldwell for $1,400 and was taken to California. He is a half brother of the 1,100-pound Jack owned by Mr. Ferguson Emure. [9-11] C. L. C.

Ladies' and Children's SPRING SHOES

The fact that we have sold more Ladies' and Children's fine Shoes since January 1st than ever before for the same period is convincing that Bennett & Barnard and Williams & Hoyt made a line of goods in style, fit and fineness second to none in the market.

We Have Received Our Spring Goods

In French Curacao and Kangaroo Kids in the New Flexible Sole that is now the most popular Shoe in the world for solid comfort. Come while sizes are complete.

BRUCE & M'ROBERTS.

New York
Early Rose,
Burbank,
Beauty of Hebron,
Peerless
Seed Irish Potatoes
and
Onion Sets,
at
T. R. Walton's
Corner
Main
and Somerset
Streets.

